Seward County College/Area Technical School Joins the M-List

School offers for-credit program options in welding and machining

Washington, DC, June 20, 2014: The Manufacturing Institute is pleased to recognize Seward County College/Area Technical School as the newest member of the M-List. Located in Liberal, Kansas, Seward County College/Area Technical School is acknowledged for their welding and machining programs. Enrolled students will be eligible to receive dual certifications from the American Welding Society and the National Institute for Metalworking Skills, as well as receive college credit.

The M-List recognizes high schools, community colleges, and universities that are teaching manufacturing students to industry standards. Specifically, these institutions offer students the opportunity to earn NAM-Endorsed Manufacturing Skills Certifications as a standard part of their manufacturing education programs.
